Clarence Gonstead

Guest Cottage

Of Frank Lloyd Wright inspired prairie style, the Gonstead Guest Cottage is a timeless icon to a regionally derived organic design ethic that has had a profound influence on 20th Century Architecture.

The guest cottage, was constructed in 1950, connected to the Clarence Gonstead residence. No distinction was made in the quality of construction between the main house and the guest cottage. The original main house and guest house, were designed by Herb Fritz Jr. in the prairie style. Three generations of the Fritz family worked for Frank Lloyd Wright.

Mature trees cover the 2 acre site. Stone walkways and stone retaining walls with recessed lighting enhance the outdoor spaces.

The property is located 3 blocks from the Military Ridge Bicycle Trail, which connects Madison to Dodgeville and beyond. Two upright, wide tire, 6 speed, Schwinn Cruiser bicycles are available for your use. The attached garage may be used to secure your personal bicycles. A charcoal grill is also provided.

The main house is separated from the guest house by a breezeway and a 3 car garage. A private suite of 5 rooms are exclusively yours during your stay, including a full kitchen with counter seating, living room, bedroom, entertainment/bedroom, and private bath.

The kitchen is equipped with a range, refrigerator, built in microwave and dishwasher.

The kitchen is stocked with dishes, silverware, and cooking utensils.

One bedroom has a queen sized bed surrounded in stone and wood with wood ceilings throughout the cottage. The second bedroom serves as an entertainment room and has a television, DVD and a queen sized pullout sleeper.

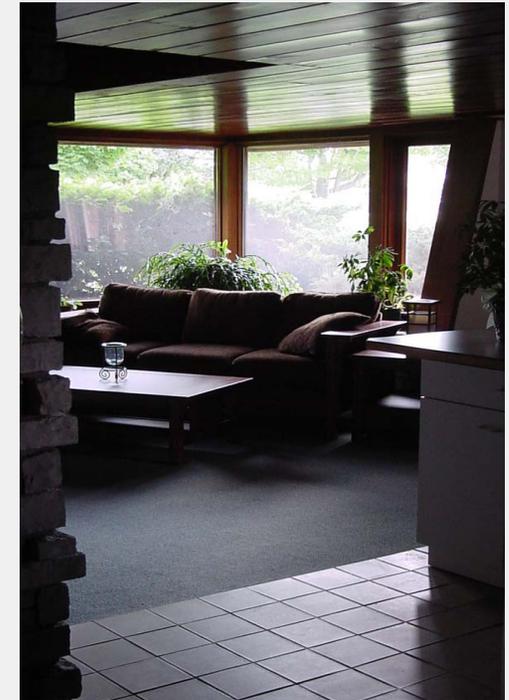

A phone is provided for local calls.

The living room is furnished with Mission style furniture and faces a lannon stone fireplace but unfortunately, we have discontinued using the fireplace.

The utility room is equipped with a full sized washer and dryer.

Off-street parking is provided for a single vehicle. Even the garage is finished in cypress and lannon stone.

The building is heated by an original in-floor copper radiant heating system.

The main house was destroyed by fire in 1992 and was rebuilt around the remaining masonry walls. The original cypress wood and the natural quarried stone patina were lost in the renovation of the main house, but the guest cottage was unaffected by the fire and retains more of the original warm character of the house. The exterior masonry bearing walls are 2 feet thick clad with random, field dressed, lannon stone inside and out. Large sheets of glass fill the space between the masonry walls and run to the low ceilings. Vent units adjacent to the large windows emphasize the reoccurring trapezoid theme resulting from the intersection of the sloping walls with the roof. The ceilings are shellacked cypress and the floors are natural clay quarry tile, stone tile and carpet.
